FINE GIFT TO MISS CLARK

This is the pendant of the beautiful diamond necklace which will be presented by the house of representatives to Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Champ Clark, when she is married on June 30 to James M. Thomson of New Orleans. There are 85 diamonds to the necklace.

Historic Wonder.

William Barnes, Jr., of New York, smiled the other day when the conversation in a prominent club turned to things historic. He said he was reminded of a little story along theatrical lines.

Some time ago Jones attended a fashionable reception in a big new England town, and not having met all of the people present the most prominent ones were pointed out to him by a friend.

"The young lady beside the palm yonder," said the friend, indicating a statuesque blonde, "is Miss Smith. She has great histrionic ability. As a matter of fact, at amateur theatricals she is simply a wonder."

"You don't really mean it!" responded Jones, gazing at the fair charmer. "Yes," smiled the friend, "she can make the most painful tragedy a source of genuine amusement."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Strategist.

"Is that small boy of yours taking music lessons?"

"No. He got a spanking yesterday and persuaded his sister to play an accompaniment on the piano so that he could tell the boys who heard him holler that he was only practicing vocal exercises."

WOULD KEEP THE MONEY AT HOME

"GROWN IN MISSISSIPPI" CONVENTION URGES THAT FARMERS GROW PRODUCT NEEDED.

CLEANEST TOWN DECDED

Greenwood Wins First Place in First Class, While West Point and Magnolia Lead in Their Classes.

—Jackson.

The first "Grown in Mississippi" annual convention, which convened here June 10, closed the following day, after a successful meeting in which the elemental principles of progressive farming, the marketing of farm products, highway upbuilding and living at home were all fully discussed by men qualified by study and experience to advise and instruct.

Perry G. Holden, the Iowa, in his address, urged the farmers of Mississippi, among other things, to "keep the $84,000,000 that has been sent out of the state to buy food for man and beast at home. You can do it and have something to sell each week, he said. "Don't buy farm products; grow them."

A feature of the closing meeting was the adoption of a resolution commending and endorsing President Wilson on his stand in the German matter.

A large display of "Grown in Mississippi" products were on exhibition in the hall of representatives.

Greenwood Wins Contest.

After running for more than two months, the "Cleanest Town" contest, which was staged in Mississippi during the months of April and May, has been decided, according to Dr. Willis Walley, state sanitary inspector, who has acted as official umpire or referee.

According to the official reports, Greenwood wins the first prize for towns in the first class, with Biloxi second and Greenville third.

In the second class, or towns having a population of between 2,500 and 7,500, West Point headed its competitors. Grenada second and Brookhaven third.

Magnolia wins first place in the third class with Winona, in Montgomery county, and Booneville, in Prentiss county, second and third, respectively.

In fourth group, or towns from 500 to 1,000 inhabitants, Magee, in Simpson county, leads; Fernwood, Pike county, second, and Clinton, Hinds county, third.

The awarding committee, composed of Mrs. J. H. Fox of the health committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Dr. W. S. Leathers, director of hygiene and sanitation, and Dr. Walley, has prepared a summary, which will be of general interest.

Book Hearing Finished.

The Mississippi text book commission completed the investigation of text books for the state schools June 12 and it is believed the adoptions for the next quinquennial period can be publicly announced soon.

During the week several thousand folks were examined by the commission. The members also heard oral presentation of the merits of the book by various publishers' representatives.

Blind School Faculty Chosen.

Official announcement has been made of the selection of faculty and teachers and special instructors at the Mississippi Blind Institute for the year 1915-16. Dr. R. S. Curry was chosen superintendent.

Series of Farm Meetings.

A series of farmers' meetings is to be held under the auspices of the United States department of agriculture, jointly with the farm and market extension departments of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, in Tallahatchie and Yalobusha counties.

By way of calling attention to the subject, R. S. Wilson, state agent in Mississippi for the United States department of agriculture, has prepared the following official notice bulletin: "Enid, Tallahatchie county, Monday, June 14.

"Charleston, Tallahatchie county, Tuesday, June 15.

"Cascilla, Tallahatchie county, Wednesday, June 16.

"Oakland, Yalobusha county, Thursday, June 17."

Millsaps Closes.

The twenty-third term of Millsaps College since its foundation was brought to a close June 9 with the baccalaureate address delivered by Judge J. S. Sexton of Hazlehurst.

Druggists Discuss Harrison Act.

The business of the thirteenth annual convention of the Mississippi Pharmaceutical association was brought to a close June 9.

The last business on the program was the election of officers, which resulted in the unanimous choice of the following:

President, Dr. H. M. Faser, dean of the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy; first vice-president, T. C. Matthews of Leland; second vice-president, Charlie Watts, Clarksdale.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH! IT'S MERCURY AND SALIVATES

Straighten Up! Don't Lose a Day's Work! Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels With "Dodson's Liver Tone."

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. Take a dose of the vile, dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

SAVE WILLIAM PENN'S CHAIRS

National Hairloms, About to Fall Apart, Have Been Repaired by Blind Women.

Two quaint and graceful chairs that once belonged to William Penn have just been repaired by two women who have never seen the chairs, says the Philadelphia Ledger. The two women are inmates of the Pennsylvania Industrial Home for Blind Women. The chairs are preserved in the east room of Independence hall, on the second floor. Year by year the cane bottoms of the famous old relics have been gradually cracking and falling out. The committee in charge decided that unless the cane was replaced the woodwork might soon collapse. But they did not dare to let the chairs be taken out of Congress hall.

So they sent for Miss Ira Frost, mistress of handicraft at the Industrial Home for Blind Women, and she brought with her to the room two of the blind women who understood chair repairing. The work was peculiarly difficult, for it was impossible to erect in Congress hall the caning table needed to hold the chairs firmly in place, and, moreover, their woodwork was soft with age. But the deft "seeing fingers" of the blind women did the work in spite of all the difficulties, and now the precious William Penn chairs are safe.

The Borrower.

"Mr. Brown called today and returned that umbrella he borrowed from you a year ago."

"Huh! I suppose he's heard I've bought a new one."

Proper Course.

"You, a Briton, and so unpatriotic as to order all those German dishes?"

"But I am about to do the proper thing for a Briton and intern them."

Here is another inviolable rule: The comforts of the humblest home are superior to those of camp life.

Some of Those Who Need Reform.

"How nice it would be," mordaciously remarked J. Fuller Gloom of Sulphur, Mo., "if the village drunkard, the oldest inhabitant, the town gossip, the life of the party, the glee club, the woman who comes of a fine old family, the political wheelhorse, the natural-born humorist, the local poet, the dramatic reciter, the preacher who tries to get down to the masses, the lady who is greatly troubled over our lack of culture, and several others whom I could name, would experience a change of heart and reform!"—Kansas City Star.

An Added Bit of Realism.

While watching an educational film a little girl's sympathy was aroused through the affection a handsome dog was showing his master.

"Why doesn't he love the pretty doggy, mamma?" she asked.

"E-h," returned the parent. "He is scenting a polecat."

"Oh," answered the child. "I never saw a polecat before, but I've smelled them."

Oh, That Lash!

Tommy had watched the high-batted and frock-coated ringmaster for some time. He was particularly interested in the way he handled the whip with the long lash.

"Well, Tommy," said his father, "what do you think of that fellow?"

The whip cracked again as Tommy replied: "I'm glad he isn't my father."

A Discovery.

"What I want to find for the summer is a nice, quiet place where I can do as I please."

"That's my idea exactly. I'm going to stay home."
